

March Madness Research Paper Rubric

Mechanics (30 points possible)	Score
Your paper is written in "Times New Roman" 12-point font.	6 or 0
Your paper is double-spaced with one-inch margins.	6, 3, or 0
You have no spelling mistakes.	6 5 4 3 2 1 0
You have no mistakes in grammar or punctuation.	6 5 4 3 2 1 0
Pages have all been numbered correctly.	6 or 0
Content (70 points)	Score
You have five to seven pages of focused and detailed information on your topic and have avoided repetition.	10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 1 0
You have an introductory paragraph with an attention grabber, clear thesis sentence, and a preview of your papers main points.	10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 1 0
Your body paragraphs have clear topic sentences, related supporting details, and analysis in you own words.	20 18 16 14 12 10 8 6 4 2 0
You have a clear conclusion that summarizes your paper's content, revisits your thesis, and explains the relevance of your findings.	10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 1 0
You have included quotes and citations (in MLA format) from various sources and introduced them to show their origin. (An average of one citation per body paragraph is expected).	10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 1 0
You have included a "works cited page" with all of the relevant information from at least five different published sources all in the correct MLA format.	10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 1 0

Thesis statement: _____ was the most important individual in the 20th Century.

_____/100 = _____

IF ANY PORTION OF YOUR PAPER IS PLAGIARIZED, YOU WILL RECEIVE A FAILING GRADE OF 0.