

March Madness: Research Paper

Due Date: March 28, 2018

For this March Madness assignment, you will be writing about one person. Your purpose is to convince your audience that the individual you have selected was the most important American during the 20th Century (the 1900s).

1: Your first objective is to do some research on some people that interest you.

2. After doing some general research, pick one of these people as the subject of a biographical report.

3. Then it will be time to do some serious research. As you do your research, carefully record the source information (MLA style).

4. After you have been given some time to do your research, we will discuss the writing requirements and the MLA style. From now, you need to keep in mind that your paper will be 5-7 pages and written in the MLA format (12 point Times New Roman font, double spaced, with 1 inch margins). Your paper should not attempt to tell this person's entire life story. While you may provide some background or context, the bulk of your paper should be focused on the impact this person had on the development of the United States.
